

Grad Sch 8000: Responsible Conduct of Research

Course ID: 3724

---

This course is designed to satisfy National Institutes of Health (NIH) and National Science Foundation (NSF) requirements for training in the responsible and ethical conduct of research (RCR). The course seeks to provide a practical overview of the rules, regulations, and professional practices that define the responsible conduct of research. This in-person 1 credit hour class will be held on Wednesdays from 10:00-10:55 in Research Commons, which is on the third floor of the 18th Avenue Library. The class will feature facilitated discussions from experts across campus. Postdoctoral researchers or OSU staff can also sign up for this course using Graduate Non-Degree.

Spring Semester 2025

1 credit hour Wednesday 10:00-10:55

Meets in the Research Commons

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY