

JOIN WOMEN IN NEWPORT

About WIN

Affinity groups are not cliques or exclusive clubs; they're helpful in your career and your community. Affinity group members feel passionate about shared issues and experiences; that emotion can be harnessed to help their communities. For example, affinity group members could do mock interviews with young people preparing to enter the hospitality industry, contribute to local food pantries, hold coat drives for those in need, or work with a women's shelter to prepare them to enter the workforce.

The focus of each affinity group is the advancement and support of those who share a particular affinity, they are not limited to those who share the same affinity. We encourage allies to join these groups. WIN meets virtually monthly. Allyship helps build social equity and creates prime opportunities for mentorship and sponsorship within Newport and the communities we serve. Here are five ways joining affinity groups can send your career and professional reputation soaring, along with uplifting those around you.
