

A lifelong Episcopalian, Melissa Rau serves as Director of Institutional Advancement at Bexley Seabury Seminary in Chicago and is the host of the For People with Bishop Rob Wright podcast. A Lead Consultant with Ministry Architects, she has worked in different roles in a number of different denominations for over 20 years. One of her proudest accomplishments is co-creating and producing the Rooted in Jesus Conference in 2020 as part of her role as Sr. Program Director for Leadership, Partnerships and New Initiatives with the Episcopal Church Foundation. She is an engaging speaker and workshop presenter, and she's a trained coach and conflict transformation specialist. Melissa is passionate about helping folks understand their baptism and living into their call as a baptized Christian more fully. She is particularly fond of giraffes and the color orange.
