This has been a year of transition. We saw the retirement of founding Executive Director, Sylvia Axelrod, and the stepping down, from the Board, of longtime President, Dr. Mark Perrin and First Vice-President, Ellen Grassman. We saw the retirement of staff who have been with NAMI NJ almost from inception: Lorrie Baumann, our first Every Mind Matters and Educating the Educator; Martha Silva, our bridge to the Spanish-speaking community and NAMI en Español Coordinator; and Cynthia Small Miles our calm, compassionate, steady voice to nearly decades of callers urgently seeking help. Finally, came the departure of longtime advocate of multicultural programming, Aruna Rao. We wondered how we would continue thriving.

We welcomed our new Executive Director, Meredith Masin Blount, and taking a deep breath, and a page from our heroic loved ones living with mental illness, we found the courage to put one foot in front of the other. Then, on the pulse of one fine morning, with a grateful nod to Maya Angelou, we began to dream new dreams: Dreams of doubling down on our advocacy for evidence-based services, supportive education, supportive housing, in safe neighborhoods, and supportive employment. While we await the exciting unveiling of the new NAMI National Strategic Plan, this Spring, we’re seeking new partnerships with mental health, suicide prevention, substance abuse treatment, and LGBTQIA communities. We invite employers throughout the State to partner with us.

We’re challenging ourselves to implement best practices for NAMI NJ, the Board, our vendors, and Local Affiliates. We’re challenging our benefactors and our partners to work with us and together create a stigma-free State where our loved ones are welcome to give expression to their gifts and talents. Join us on our Journey!

Laura L. Bryant, Esq.,
NAMI NJ President

Dear NAMI NJ Family,
Welcome to the 2018-2019 Annual Report! This report is the culmination of all the hard work of our NAMI NJ staff, volunteers and partners across the state. We have accomplished a lot in 12 months...and we are just getting started!

The past year has seen the successful re-affiliation of NAMI NJ Affiliates to the National model. While a challenging process, re-affiliation has made us a stronger alliance and brought us closer to our counterparts across the nation. We are expanding the reach of our homegrown programs. Our four multicultural outreaches (AACT-NOW, CAMHOP, NAMI en Español, and SAMHAJ), Dara Axelrod Expressive Arts Network, Educating the Educator and Every Mind Matters – are all exploring new territory and finding new communities to share our message. Our First Annual Open house brought in more than 100 visitors, from NAMI NJ founders, to new friends.

Mental Health parity was signed!!! This long battle fought by our Public Policy Committee was successful, and now NJ is a model for the nation. NAMI NJ is the leading voice of families and individuals affected by mental illness, and we intend to continue that tradition. The past year we have reached out to the community and forged new partnerships. With these cross-purpose partnerships and collaborators, come new opportunities to extend our voice and our reach. NAMI NJ has accomplished many things in our long history – and the horizon has so much more in store for us. Your support is vital to the continued success of our great cause. Continue to walk with us: volunteer, become a member, make a donation – and you will be a key stakeholder in the fight to end mental health stigma.

Thank you – and here is to another amazing year!

Meredith Masin Blount,
NAMI NJ Executive Director
