ETFO SERVES NOTICE TO BARGAIN JUNE 13, 2022

This morning, ETFO served notice to bargain on the Ontario Public School Boards' Association (OPSBA), the Ontario Catholic School Trustees' Association (OCSTA) and the government. Notice to bargain advises them of ETFO's intention to renegotiate Teacher, Occasional Teacher, Designated Early Childhood Educator, Educational Support Personnel, Professional Support Personnel and other ETFO bargaining unit collective agreements that will be expiring as of August 31, 2022.

Under the School Boards Collective Bargaining Act, central table partners must now meet within 15 days, or a mutually agreed-upon time, to start discussions that will determine the list of issues to be negotiated at ETFO's Teacher/Occasional Teacher and Education Worker Central Tables. Members will be apprised of these meeting dates when they are confirmed.

Check ETFO's CB Website for more information about notice to bargain.

Stay Informed About Central Bargaining

ETFO uses many ways to keep members up to date with the most current bargaining-related news. Those ways include:

- central bargaining bulletins;
- the Collective Bargaining eNewsletter;
- a specialized collective bargaining website (www.etfocb.ca);
- a member-only Collective Bargaining Facebook Group managed by ETFO Provincial.

ETFO also uses phone calls, texts and mail via Canada Post to keep members informed and engaged in the bargaining process.

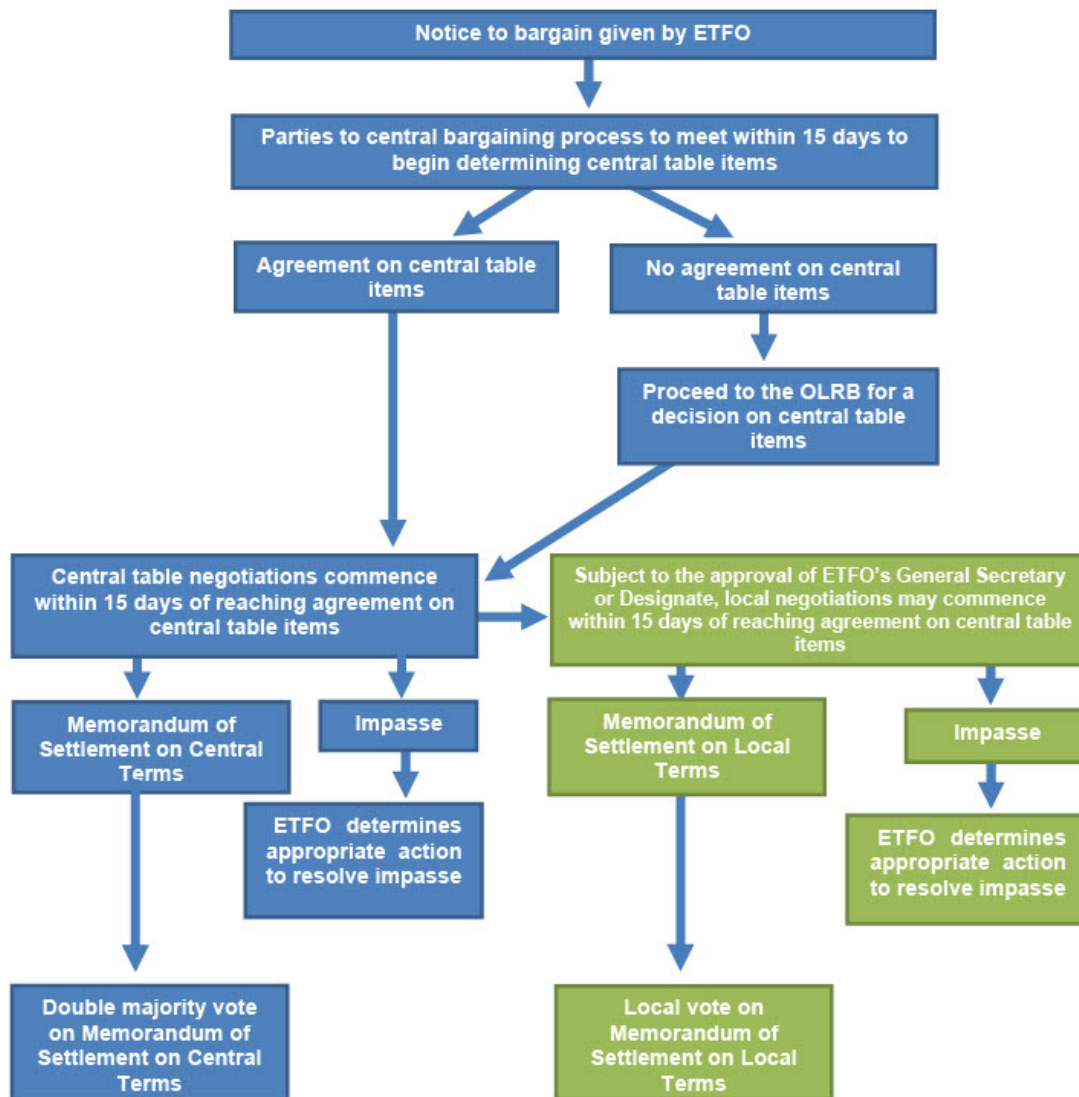

To keep you in the loop, ETFO needs your current contact information (address, phone numbers, email) on file.

Update Your Contact Information with ETFO

If you aren't receiving ETFO emails (like the Collective Bargaining eNewsletter) or correspondence at home (e.g., Voice magazine), email ETFO's Member Records Department at memberrecords@etfo.org and provide your current contact information.

In your email to Member Records, be sure to include your first and last name, as well as your ETFO ID number.
