

First Nations, Métis and Inuit Education: Engaging Learners Through Trauma Informed Practice for Women Members

Friday, November 12, 2021

9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. — Virtual on Zoom

ETFO invites 73 women members to register for a one-day First Nations, Métis and Inuit education virtual professional learning opportunity.

This virtual session, led by Right To Play, will explore trauma-informed practices and experiential play-based learning to support educators in their instructional practice and knowledge building about Indigenous peoples.

Registration opens Friday, October 8, 2021.

Successful participants will be notified by email by October 22.

To apply, visit events.etfo.org and click on the tab entitled, First Nations, Métis and Inuit Education: Engaging Learners Through Trauma Informed Practice for Women Members. Please have your ETFO membership number handy. There is a $25 registration fee.

Release time and dependent care will be provided to members.

For more information, please contact Sabrina Sawyer at ssawyer@etfo.org.
