

THE GOTO SCHOOL Welcome! (ようこそ!)

THE GOTO SCHOOL - Welcome (ようこそ!)

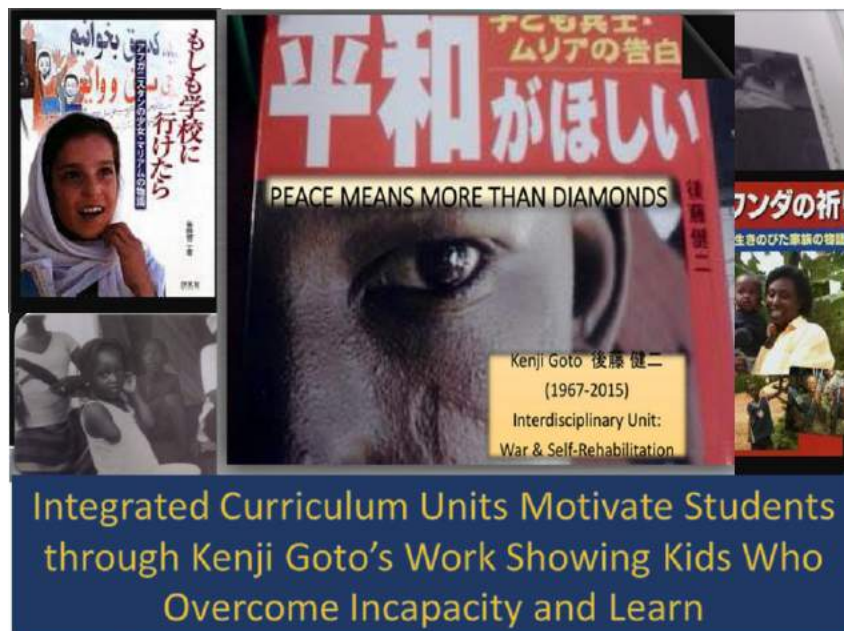

The Goto School project is not just an online school. Through its several portals dedicated to clinical and instructional support, it shows how The Message is key to our faithfully using our gifts to bring hope and health to others. It also shows how our faith and gifts are sharpened and made more beneficial by the obstacles (the monsters) that we face, ready to forgive as we persist in our mission. The Goto School brings witness to this through the works of Kenji Goto, an independent Christian journalist, who reported and interviewed worldwide and gave voice to youth and adults in challenging situations. Through his books and writings, Kenji Goto left a legacy of faith in others as well as in the Lord. Our mission is to use our clinical and linguistic training to make the messages in these testimonies accessible through multiple languages and methods - in a world facing local isolation and despair. Like the Father, in both life and death, Kenji models how we might more abundantly live, heal and use our talents to empower others, to believe and to become Ambassadors for Capacity!

We help our clients THINK better, FEEL better, UNDERSTAND better and BELIEVE!

The Goto (後藤) School is a clinician-trained, non-profit instructional network that helps children with special needs and gifts to build abilities and to become ambassadors for capacity. We use psycho-educational and brain-based instructional diagnostics, approaches and interventions to empower our clients in customized ways. We are learning specialists who work to help children unable to access appropriate schooling to succeed by 1) understanding how they learn and by 2) continuing to teach and learn as models for those around them. We customize clinical and cross-cultural counseling, instruction and training for teachers, teacher-trainers, teacher-leaders and others. Several specialists also offer clinical-training with faith-filled expertise. These specialists--at client request--support psycho-social and psycho-educational needs. As multilingual, multi-credentialed clinicians in several locations, we use advanced clinical and instructional training to recommend and support IDEA-aligned learning and teaching--differentiated by client and by context. We are the Goto School. Welcome!

"Close your eyes. Bear it. If we become angry and yell, we are doomed. This is like prayer. Hate is not what humans should do. Judgement lies with God. That is what I learned from my Arab brothers." -Kenji Goto, 2010

THE GOTO SCHOOL - Welcome (ようこそ!)

The Goto School Portal contains curriculum that brings therapeutic testimony through Kenji's books, linked with disciplinary instruction in both Japanese and the dominant cultural language. Lessons are scaffolded to help each learn actively, psycho-socially (and spiritually). Each has the opportunity to change endings and creatively share ways to help another move through monsters and overcome them. Team members can work in French, Spanish, Japanese and English.

The Gojira Portal curriculum therapeutically takes on monsters like those faced by Kenji's kids but also draws on clinical expertise to help each deal with regulating and contextualizing the monsters in our own world. Here the theme of recognizing Kaiju is key: the battlefield of the mind involves a range of forces that one must first face in order to eventually rise above them. Like Gojira and other Kaiju, the battle can never be finished; mental (and spiritual) readiness is key. Animation, manga/comics, simulations and other tools are incorporated in this Portal. Units are scaffolded to help each learn actively, psycho-socially (and spiritually). Each again learns how to change their own outcomes and to draw upon cognitive strengths to overcome emotional challenges.

The Message Portal comes alive all the more once having experienced the active challenges presented by testimonies through the other portals. Going through hardship is made easier by more clearly capturing The Message and it can provide strength in circumstances where logic seems to fail. Through life journeys lived through stories in The Message, questions arise that speak to us all. Message-based curriculum offers sustenance and the more global context of how The Message is delivered in today's Japan. We think on Kenji's statement about not hating as it relates to how we would live our best lives.

THE GOTO SCHOOL - Welcome (ようこそ!)

Our mission is to empower more youth in challenging circumstances: orphanages, prison, drug rehabilitation, rehabilitation from extremism or child soldiering, exceptional needs, chronic illness, inability to access school, or in refugee or transitory status - by seeding Kenji's original books with resources. Seeds are offered both through institutions or by individual request. Our Goto Gazette and Newsletter provide clinical and instructional information and strategies for a wide ranging readership. We also introduce you to other Ambassadors for Capacity. We also pray actively for those involved in some way with what happened to Kenji - whether they are in custody or still at large. Hope and empowerment come through learning from the testimonies of others. Don't quarantine your story or your purpose. Register for our newsletter and for Portal access. We appreciate your involvement and support. At The Goto School, we build Ambassadors for Capacity! Join us!
