The federal government offers several options for certifications that will assist you to limit competition and grow your business. Including: 8(a), Woman Owned, Service Disabled Veteran, HUBzone.

Do you qualify? There are many different certifications, mostly based on the business owner and it is important that you understand the qualifications. If you do qualify, what now, how do you get certified? Because of the benefits to certified businesses, there is potential for fraud. So, the registration process requires that you provide documents to prove your status. But, how and where and what documents?

Then, once you are certified, how do you market your certification?

This FREE training will answer these and other questions.
