

HEALTHCARE MANAGEMENT TRAINING PROGRAM

People of color who seek leadership positions in the healthcare industry often lack the personal and professional connections necessary for upward mobility. In addition, they often do not have access to training opportunities.

To level the playing field, we have developed the Changemakers of Color (COC) pilot program. COC was created in an effort to improve the ability of people of color to compete for managerial and leadership positions in the health care sector in California, and to prepare them for success by enhancing their leadership skills.

COC is an intensive, one-year leadership development program targeted at innovative, visionary, and emerging leaders of color.
