With a fusion of intimate storytelling and broad reportage, NO ONE CARES ABOUT CRAZY PEOPLE takes us inside the tragedy, chaos, and crisis of severe mental illness in America. It was inspired by Ron Powers' acclaimed book of the same name, a hybrid narrative of tragic family memoir and searing social history.

The film follows the stories of individuals and families grappling with schizophrenia, bipolar and related disorders, all caught in the maelstrom of a disastrous system. And they go a step further, to explore the genesis-in-progress of a national crusade by a growing army of advocates.
