

Cynthia Jackson Kelartinian, Ph.D.

Executive Director

Heritage Clinic, a Division of the Center for Aging Resources

Dr. Cynthia Jackson is a licensed clinical psychologist who has worked with older adults for 33 years. She is currently the Executive Director of Heritage Clinic, the mental health division of the Center for Aging Resources. Dr. Jackson has spent 24 years at the Center for Aging Resources, which is a community mental health clinic, adult daycare, and resource center serving older adults and their families. She has delivered numerous lectures and presentations on a variety of topics related to geriatric psychology, Medicare and Medi-Cal reimbursements, and program development. Additionally, she is actively involved in promoting the integration of primary care and mental health care for older adults as part of broader health care reform efforts. She is actively involved in local and state behavioral health organizations including: the Board of Directors for the California Council of Community Behavioral Health Agencies; the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health Systems Leadership Team and Budget Committee; and the Service Area Advisory Council for Service Area 3. Dr. Jackson received her Master's degree and Ph.D. in clinical psychology from Fuller Theological Seminary and her bachelor's degree from Birmingham-Southern College.