

JESSICA SAGERS, PhD

ASSOCIATE, PUBLISHING AND OUTREACH

Jessica Sagers focuses on Publishing and Outreach as an Associate within the TechAtlas division of RA Capital Management, which involves authoring of articles, development of educational materials for the firm's internal and external business courses, and presenting at conferences on concepts such as the biotechnology social contract that she and colleagues have written on. Jessica also works closely with the Venture team on new company formation, landscape analysis, business plan development, and communication strategy. Jessica holds a BA in Linguistics from Brigham Young University and a PhD in auditory neuroscience from the Division of Medical Sciences at Harvard University. Her graduate research investigated novel small molecule approaches to treating vestibular schwannoma and neurofibromatosis type 2.
