Good morning Debbie:

Bain Perkins here. Our busy schedule and the weather kept my family from joining me until Saturday evening. Still we all enjoyed the diversion from our usual weekend schedule. Just getting to the campground was the point for us (me). I especially enjoyed a little solo quiet time but not without some guilt. I finally got to wash the trailer and truck which happens only once or twice a year. Mostly I really enjoyed meeting many of you in the local Air Streamers chapter and trying to see if your travel trips are something we can incorporate into our lives at some point. We will make Albuquerque work for us next year if that trip comes to fruition. Thank you so much for maintaining your group commitment, It was a refreshing and informative fun experience for us. Peter is a very personable individual who can keep your ears busy and his enthusiasm for the outdoor/travel life style is a grass greener temptation for me.

Many thanks;
