Daily Laboratories Aces All Recent Inspections

Peoria, IL, Feb. 21, 2017./Daily Laboratories, Division of Mobilab, Inc.

Daily Laboratories received their annual audit for the maintenance of their ISO 17025:2005 certification. "The audit team was able to verify the effectiveness of the Testing and Calibration Management System. The requirements of the standard on which the audit has been based have been satisfied." No nonconformities. No corrective actions required.

Daily Labs also had their biennial state laboratory inspection for Illinois Dept. of Public Health, FDA and EPA. No deficiencies found, no corrective actions required.

Department of Health and Human Services, the pharmaceutical arm of the FDA, visited the laboratory over two days and found no deficiencies with no corrective actions required.

These inspections include observation of personnel performing procedures, review of methods, records kept and in order, internal audits, discussions and interviews.

Factors assessed by the accreditation bodies include:

- Technical competence of staff,
- Validity of test methods,
- Maintenance of test equipment,
- Testing environment and
- Quality assurance of test data

"This accreditation for the microbiological testing confirms that we have the processes in place to aid our clients with their testing needs," — Lisa Strickland, President

Congratulations, Lisa and Daily Laboratories!
