

Natalie Ulrich

Natalie Ulrich is the Director of Development at Safe Passage, where she leads efforts to build meaningful community partnerships and secure vital resources to support survivors of domestic violence. She brings more than 11 years of professional fundraising experience, including peer-to-peer campaigns, giving days, major donor engagement, grant writing, and corporate sponsorships. At Safe Passage, Natalie oversees the organization's annual Hot Chocolate Run, a peer-to-peer and sponsorship-driven event that raises more than $750,000 each year.

Previously, Natalie held leadership roles in nonprofit operations and continues to contribute to community well-being through service on local boards and mentorship. She holds an MBA from Loyola University Chicago's Quinlan School of Business and is passionate about using her skills to strengthen organizations that create lasting impact.

Outside of her professional life, Natalie is the proud mother of two young children. She is also a quilter and an avid outdoor enthusiast who finds inspiration and balance in creative expression and time in nature.
