Dear Fellow Law Enforcement Executive:

The Mid-Atlantic Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar (MALEEDS) after two years of COVID-19 cancellations, is planning to run its training conference on the historic campus of Princeton University in Princeton, NJ from Sunday, June 5 through Friday, June 10, 2022. This unique educational opportunity is designed to provide leadership training for police chiefs and higher-ranking law enforcement executives who are in leadership positions in departments with 75 sworn police officers or fewer. This highly successful and selective program provides insight into some of the many challenges facing today's police executives. The class is limited to 60 top executives to maximize interaction between the instructors and attendees during the training program. These 60 individuals selected to attend the conference will be drawn from applicants from New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation's (FBI) Philadelphia, Newark and New York divisions are proud to co-sponsor this energetic and sophisticated educational program along with our partners, retired police executives from the former Princeton Borough and Princeton Township Police Departments, and Princeton University Department of Public Safety.

The faculty for this year's seminar, as in past years, includes instructors from the private sector and law enforcement community. The curriculum is scheduled to include the following topics:

Crisis Communications; Leadership; Domestic Terrorism; Investigative Communication; Officer Wellness; Emotional Survival for Law Enforcement

Attendance at all planned classes and instructional programs is mandatory. Classes are held daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and several evening and after-hours programs are planned to enhance the training experience. The MALEEDS Executive Board will not certify attendees who do not complete all course requirements. The registration fee for this seminar is $800.00, which does not include the cost of room and board for the week.

As the planned instructional day will extend into the evening hours, participants are highly encouraged to take advantage of the special hotel rates and accommodations that have been arranged at the historic Nassau Inn in downtown Princeton, NJ. The Nassau Inn is offering a special per night rate for MALEEDS participants of $151.00.

There are two steps to the application process. First, the applicant must complete the 2022 MALEEDS online application by going to our website at www.maleeds.org. The temporary case sensitive password is MALEEDS2022. After submitting the online application, the applicant must also complete and mail the "Application Supplement" that is attached to this letter and mail it to your FBI representative listed below. The application deadline is 5:00pm on March 18, 2022.

Please note that if conditions allow for the course to run this summer, all attendees must abide by all Princeton University mandates pertaining to COVID vaccination status at the time of the training. Currently, all attendees would be required to be vaccinated, boosted and would be required to sign a form attesting to their vaccination status. Attendees must also abide by all safety rules that may be in place. If after reading the enclosed material you have any questions, please contact the following individuals in your specific geographic area:

Attendance at MALEEDS is highly selective. Due to the popularity of our program, we can only accept about sixty percent of those who apply. The MALEEDS Executive Board will meet in March 2022, to select participants. Each police executive selected to attend will be notified by email. If you have not been contacted by April 15, 2022, you have not been selected for this year's seminar. The Executive Board regrets that it cannot notify every applicant of his/her individual status. We send out hundreds of invitations annually and cannot respond individually to every applicant. It should be noted that your selection to attend MALEEDS will not preclude your future attendance at the FBI National Academy or MALEEDS.

We look forward to receiving your application by the March 18, 2022 deadline. Please direct any specific questions you may have to the FBI representative in your area.

Fraternally,

Chief Charles W. Davall, Jr, Retired, President for the Executive Board,
