

In an emergency abroad

If you find yourself in an emergency situation abroad, contact the U.S. Department of State. They can connect you with a variety of resource to help, wherever you are.

- From the U.S. & Canada: 1.888.407.4747
- From Overseas: +1.202.501.4444
- You can also contact the nearest U.S. Embassy or Consulate in the country where you're visiting. Consular officers are available for emergency assistance 24/7.
- If you are a victim of a crime, you can have the support of a U.S. consular officer to help navigate the process. This person cannot investigate crimes or provide legal services, but they can help you navigate the criminal justice system in the country you're visiting. If you contact or report to local law enforcement, be sure to request a copy police report.