

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact:

Keisha Ricks

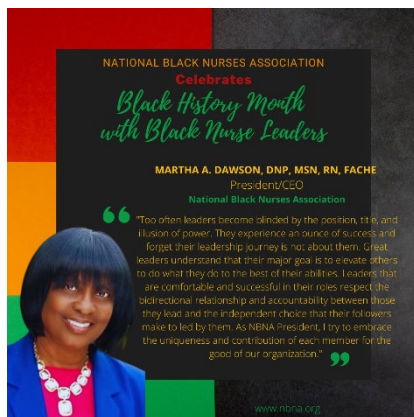

NBNA Communications and Marketing Manager

kricks@nbna.org

National Black Nurses Association Celebrates and Honors Black History Month with Black Nurse Leaders 16 health executives share their insight and expertise on leadership.

SILVER SPRING, MD, (February 9, 2022) - The National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) is honored to celebrate Black History Month with the Black Nurse Leaders Series 2022 initiative. This effort highlights healthcare leaders who are prominent figures in their organizations and making transformational impacts in the field of nursing.

16 honored executives will be featured during the month of February.

“There is no denying, at this time in history, nurses are leading the way in healthcare and our country,” stated NBNA President Dr. Martha A. Dawson. “This is an optimal time to share insights from experienced top professionals in the field who can deliver thoughtful messages and inspire the next generation of black nurses. It is also very important to highlight prominent Black nurse leaders in this country who represent them. NBNA is ecstatic to share a stellar panel of professionals to honor Black History Month 2022!”

16 Nurses who will be featured during the month are:

- Dr. Martha A. Dawson, President and CEO, National Black Nurses Association
- Dr. Debra A. Toney, President, National Coalition of Ethnic Minority Nurse Associations
- Dr. Dora Clayton-Jones, President, International Association of Sickle Cell Nurses and Professional Associates
- Dr. Sarah Killian, National President, Chi Eta Phi Nursing Sorority, Inc.
- Dr. Millicent Gorham, Executive Director, National Black Nurses Association
- Dr. Ernest Grant, President, American Nurses Association
- Dr. Lindsey Harris, President, Alabama State Nurses Association
- Dr. Barbara Hatcher, President, Chi Eta Phi Education Foundation, Inc.
- Patricia Lane, President-elect, American Association of Neuroscience Nurses
- Dr. Beverly Malone, CEO, National League for Nursing
- Donna Mazyck, CEO, National Association of School Nurses
- Ottamissiah Moore, President, National Alliance of Wound Care and Ostomy
- Dr. Tonya Moore, Executive Director, Mississippi Nurses Association
- Beverly Morgan, President, Lambda Psi Nu Nursing Sorority, Inc.
- Dr. Linda Scott, President-elect, American Academy of Nursing
- Dr. Danielle McCamey, Founder, CEO & President, DNPs of Color

To view the full panel of featured nurse leaders and their background, go here. We encourage everyone to follow NBNA on Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter to stay connected.

NBNA is currently accepting applications for membership. To become a member, go here for more information.

Official Hashtag:

#NBNANurseLeaders2022

Photo Caption 1: NBNA President Dr. Martha A. Dawson leadership quote.

Photo Caption 2: Featured Black History Month 2022 Black Nurse Leaders

###

About the National Black Nurses Association

Founded in 1971, the National Black Nurses Association (NBNA) is a professional organization representing 308,000 African American registered nurses, licensed vocational/practical nurses, and nursing students in 114 chapters and 35 states. The NBNA mission is “to serve as the voice for Black nurses and diverse populations ensuring equal access to professional development, promoting educational opportunities and improving health.” NBNA chapters offer voluntary hours providing health education and screenings to community residents in collaboration with community-based partners, including faith-based organizations, civic, fraternal, hospitals, and schools of nursing. For more information, visit nbna.org. Follow us on Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter!

#NBNAResilient #NBNACelebrates50Years