

National Academy of Medicine Members Urge Black Americans to get Vaccinated

In a new video released yesterday, Black members of the National Academy of Medicine are urging Black Americans to get the COVID-19 vaccine when it becomes available to them.

The members initially made their case encouraging Black Americans to get vaccinated in a New York Times op-ed published on February 7, 2021. The scientists, doctors, nurses, public health experts, and other health professionals who make up this group of NAM members say that they have reviewed the research and have confidence in the vaccines.

Click to Watch Now

