

HATCH'EM, MATCH'EM, & DISPATCH'EM

By the time you are reading this in early October, I will have returned from making a family trip down to New Orleans. This trip is both personal and professional for me. You see, I have the honor of baptizing my grandson on the 29th of September.

Early on in my priesthood I had a wise retired priest point out to me how blessed we are as clergy because we get to be included in the most significant moments in our parishioners lives. We are present soon after a child is born when we baptize them into the Body of Christ. Later we are present when they are adults, often young newly independent adults, when we officiate at their weddings and they become one flesh. Finally, we are present whenever they depart this world to enter into God's Kingdom, and we say goodbye to them at their funerals. I've had the privilege of being present at these important times in life more times than I can begin to count.

Now, almost 30 years into my priesthood, I am discovering how truly blessed I am that I can also be present to Hatch'em, Match'em, and Dispatch'em, as a priest for my own family. Twelve years ago I was asked to officiate at both of my fathers' funerals. A couple years later it was my mother's funeral. Over the past few years I have officiated at my niece's wedding and also at two of my own children's weddings. Thirty years ago I baptized my niece. And now, I have been asked to baptize my almost one year old grandson.

These are indeed important moments in life. As a priest, I've baptized over 600 people. I've officiated at the weddings of over 400 couples. I'm grateful that I am no longer prohibited from doing so based on the gender of the two people getting married. I have also officiated at nearly 500 funerals. There have been so many times where I've been allowed to be present when God has also been present.

Now that I'm older, I can better appreciate what it means to be part of a circle of life. God continues to create and bring new life into the world. God finds a way to bring together parents that will perpetuate love by nurturing new life. Finally, God will welcome home our souls when our physical time here has ended.

When my bishop ordained me into Holy Orders and thus set me apart for ministry, my elderly and wise priest friend was right, I might not have realized it at the moment, but I was blessed.

God's Peace, Mark+

SENIOR WARDEN'S REPORT

Happy October Everyone! Same as last month and now more important than ever-

BBQ is here! That means it's Volunteer Season at the Pit! The Fall BBQ will be held the week of October 1st, with Tent Sales on Friday October 6th & Saturday October 7th.

Here are a couple of notes on changes and needs for this fall's festival of goodness:

- We ran out of beans last spring – we'll be Cooking Beans both Wednesday & Thursday to make sure there are enough – which means we'll need extra help! (many thanks to wonderful Mary West & Rebecca Fowler who will be working with the always awesome Brooke White to lead this effort)
- We need a Volunteer to help coordinate Corporate Sales Packing in the Parish Hall - some of our stalwarts will be absent this year and we need some kind soul to help us out here.
- We also need a Volunteer to help coordinate the Plate/Sandwich Packing Crew in the Parish hall on Friday.

Our schedule of Activities for BBQ week is as follows:

Sunday October 1st	Parish Breakfast between services Parish Hall Set-Up after 10:30
Wednesday October 4th	Tent Set Up Slaw First Bean Cook & Packing
Thursday October 5th	First Pit Cook Second Bean Cook & Packing
Friday October 6th	Corporate Sales First Day of Tent Sales Second Pit Cook
Saturday, October 7th	Second Day of Tent Sales Clean-Up

All of us are busier than ever, but please find time to sign up for at least one activity.

Reminder: We still need BOXES and BAGS for use in the tent and for packing corporate orders. Stay tuned for more to come and as always, Thank You!!!!

Peace,
Colleen Andrews
Senior Warden

JUNIOR WARDEN'S REPORT

BBQ

I have a love/hate relationship with the BBQ. It's an integral part of All Saints identity, but it's so much work! I've tried to retire a couple of times. See last month's 'Martha' confession. I tell a joke that if I ever change parishes, I'm driving around the whole building to make sure they don't have a BBQ pit. And another story that BBQ week is analogous to Holy Week. On Wednesday, I'm praying, "Father, if it's Your will, take this cup away from me." On Thursday, we descend into the pit of fire. On Friday and Saturday, I'm writing resentment speeches in my head to give to the parish on Sunday (and never do). And on Sunday, we're basking in the glory of the Resurrection that it's over, again. The Rev. Phil Purser, once asked me how I did it. Caffeine and Prayer!

It's gotten worse. We lost our wood supplier last year. We found a new one. The lumber yard right behind the church. They have lots. Its free. They deliver. The only problem is that the logs are huge. To get it to burn down in an hour we must split each block at least twice. We now have an electric log splitter. But it takes someone, and a work release crew two additional days to split it. I bet the people, in Libya, Morocco, Ukraine, or Maui would be willing to trade problems.

Activities during September

- Installed several new style door stops around the building.
- Cleaned up the mess in the undercroft caused by a leaking fitting behind the new ice maker upstairs. (fixed the leak, of course)
- Changed the batteries in the four humidity sensors associated with the sanctuary thermostat.
- Started stockpiling supplies and items for the BBQ.
- Captured a snake in the parish hall.

I refer to those moments when I see God in action, as "notes from God."

After the log splitting work release crew had lunch with the Bingo group, they requested to see the sanctuary. One of them recognized the stations of the cross. Two of them knelt at the altar and prayed. In twenty years of BBQ, that's the first time I've ever witnessed that. I think God was saying, "It's worth it. Keep working."

taking place during the 10:30am service.

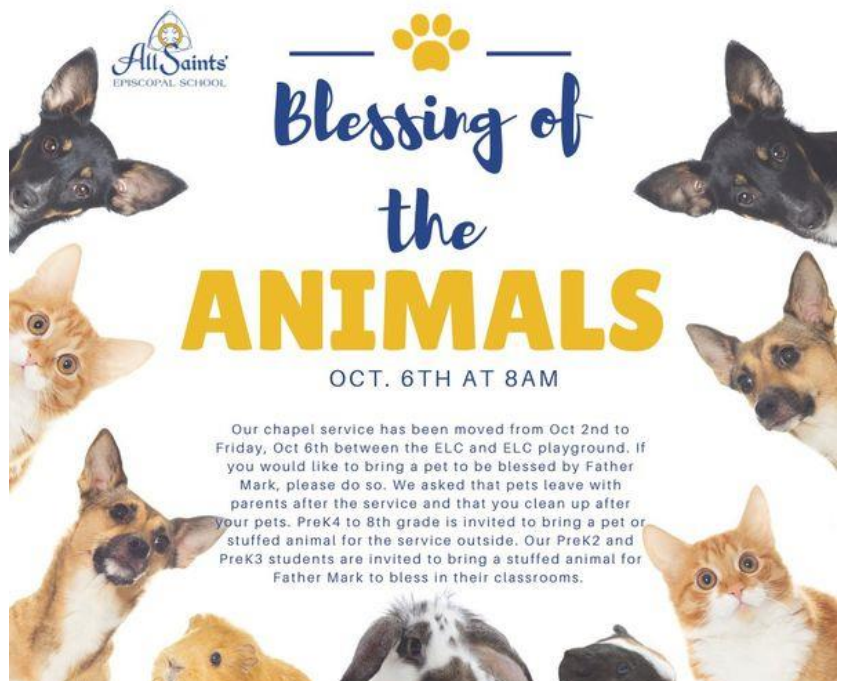

The Vestry is pleased to announce that Sheila Marie Carton has provided a significant gift to our Parish. Sheila left her entire estate to the All Saints Foundation Trust. To commemorate Sheila's legacy, her name has been added to the Foundation Trust plaque in the Narthex. Leaving a legacy is a profound action that transcends our time on Earth. It's about making a lasting impact that extends beyond our years, whether through our deeds, creations, or the positive influence we have on others. When we strive to leave a legacy, we are contributing to a better future, ensuring that our values, achievements, and lessons continue to inspire and guide generations to come. It's a powerful reminder that our actions today can shape the world for tomorrow. Sheila did that. Sheila's memory will forever be cherished within our Parish.
