April 2023

HOLY WEEK 2023

Have you ever noticed that we Episcopalians tend to have a fancy formal name for practically everything. The space behind the altar rail is the Sanctuary. The space in the church outside the altar rail up unto the entrance doors is the Nave. The area between the Parish Hall and the Nave is known as the Narthex. Finally, the area downstairs underneath the Parish Hall is more formally known as the Undercroft.

Considering our Episcopal need to formally name everything, it should come as no great surprise that we also do the same naming theme with our unique liturgical form of worship. Each liturgical season is defined by the particular color we use on the altar. Right now we are in Lent and the liturgical color is purple. However, in two weeks we will switch our liturgical color to red once we begin Holy Week.

Here again, we do not allow the opportunity for giving formal names to escape us. Sunday is the first day of the week. So in Holy Week we begin with Palm Sunday and the Blessing of the Palms. This is the day that Jesus entered triumphantly into Jerusalem and was hailed as the coming King. Of course we know things didn't go exactly as people thought they might.

Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday in Holy Week, which this year is April 3rd, 4th, and 5th, will give us the opportunity to share our Holy Week worshipping with two neighboring churches. First Methodist and First Presbyterian will join with All Saints' for a three day series of noon day meditations based upon John's gospel. A light soup and salad meal will follow after each service.

Next we get to Maundy Thursday. Several traditions are often observed on this night in Holy Week. This is the night when Jesus offered a foot washing to his disciples. In a post Covid world we are not quite ready to resume this tradition. Yet, this is also the night in which he instituted the sacrament of Holy Communion. At the end of the service the altar is solemnly stripped and left bare of all vestments and vessels. This is to prepare us for what will follow on Good Friday.

On Good Friday Jesus is crucified. We remember his death by reliving how he suffered by the walking the 14 Stations of the Cross. We share communion from the reserved sacrament from the night before. After which whatever is left is consumed. The Tabernacle where the reserved sacrament is kept is now empty and the door is left open. The Sanctuary Candle is extinguished as the real presence of Christ's Body and Blood is not present until after the Resurrection.

On the Saturday night before Easter Sunday, we hold the Great Vigil of Easter. This is traditionally the first service of Easter. The service begins in the dark with the kindling of a new fire and the lighting of the Paschal Candle. The story of God's creation is retold. The dawning of Easter Day is greeted with the return of Alleluias and joyful music.

All of this happens in just seven days. There are so many opportunities for us to delve deeper into the mysteries of our Christian faith. Having taken part in all the events of Holy Week a greater understanding is reached when we boldly proclaim the words, "Christ has died! Christ has Risen! Christ will come again!"

God's Peace,
Mark+

Happy Spring Everyone,

Easter is the season of rebirth and recommitment. The season asks us to reimagine our interaction with the church and to take tangible steps towards renewing our faith as Christians in a world that increasingly challenges the notion of coming forth in service.

I was, accordingly, extremely moved by the response to our recent “Mini-Rally” on March 5th where 18 people stepped forward to be trained for service as ushers, readers, acolytes, and media support people. Thank you, everyone of you, for your commitment to increase our ability to serve our parish members.

We will hold training classes between services on April 16th and 23rd and will be reaching out to you with more information. If you were not able to sign up at the rally and have an interest in serving as part of the Worship Team, please reach out to either myself or Father Mark.

We held the first Spring BBQ meeting on March 8th .

A couple of notes from the meeting about BBQ:

- Spring BBQ Dates: We will start cooking on Thursday, May 11th and sell on Friday May 12th and Saturday May 13th .
- We plan to load 6,500 lbs. of pork onto the grill to meet demand. We will need help both Thursday and Friday nights.
- Sign-up sheets will be posted in the Parish Hall after Easter Sunday – Please plan to sign-up.
- Our favorite Magic Potion, BBQ Sauce will be concocted down at the pit on Saturdays April 15th and 22nd (weather permitting).
- We will make Cole Slaw on Wednesday May 10th .
- New This Year: After Service on Sunday May 7th , we ask all of you to join us in Readyng the Parish Hall for BBQ. Please wear your Blue Jeans that day and help us remove tables, lay down cardboard, and move in and set up the BBQ Workstations.

Next BBQ Committee meeting will be on Wednesday, April 19th at 6pm

Thanks to all of you for everything you do everyday to further the mission of All Saints.

Peace,
Colleen Andrews
Senior Warden

Junior Warden Report

WWJD?

I think of myself as a good person. I think of myself as a good Christian. I think of myself as the only copy of The Book of Common Prayer that some people may ever see. I obviously have never shot, stabbed, or beaten anyone. I've been faithful to my wife for over 40 years. I'm cash register honest. And yet, in many small ways, despite all He's done for me and His unconditional love, I routinely pick up the hammer and drive the nails into the hands and feet of my Lord.

I sometimes worry that if Jesus showed up one morning speaking Aramaic, smelling like a camel, and heaven forbid telling me I was doing it wrong, I'd politely direct him to The Daily Bread and MATs.

Where is this going?

In two months as Jr. Warden, I've removed six homeless campsites. After placing material by the dumpster and then finding it back behind the trailer again, I put it in the dumpster. When I found the same items up by the HVAC units near the sacristy, I disposed of it off site. It was a lot of stuff, and it was wet and soggy. I was annoyed.

So, I've put up signs. Too early to tell if they'll work long term.

But I'm conflicted. Did I respect the dignity of every human being, or did I take punitive action because I was put out? Could I have talked to the individuals before discarding all their possessions? WWJD?

Interestingly, I have since seen Lester Holt on the national news talking to Dr. Jim O'Connell who's been treating homeless patients on the streets of Boston for 40 years. (I went to Northeastern University in Boston.) It's more about nursing than medicine. I've started reading the book Rough Sleepers.

I think I may be called to do more than clean up campsites.

Is being Jr. Warden going to change me? I hope so!

Activities for March:

1. Cleaned up campsite #6.
2. Put up no trespassing signs. (I said please.)
3. Removed the pantry door, that's never supposed to be closed.
4. Hung a picture in the parish hall donated by Lynne Ann.
5. Relocated the Stations of the Cross to more visible locations per the request of the rector.
6. Install pull knobs on all the kitchen cabinets and drawers per the suggestion of Bob Harmon.
7. Installed a closure ribbon/string on the baby changing station in the parish hall restrooms per the request of the sexton.
8. Pressure washed the main entrance steps up to the glass doors per the suggestion of Mark Joyce.
9. Waiting on parts for the ice maker. Should be repaired by early April.
10. Escaped to Iowa for two weeks, but there were projects waiting for me here, too!

Faithfully,
Dan Dickens
Jr. Warden

As I type this article, I have two PreK students sitting in my office. It's been a hard morning for their "listening ears." After repeated attempts by multiple teachers to help them attend to their lessons, not distract other students, and follow instructions, they are seated on chairs missing the fun their friends are having as they "learn stuff" here at ASESN.

We don't have much student misbehavior or many discipline issues at ASESN. Parents pay us a lot of money to have their children attend here, and nobody wants their child to waste that investment. Our restorative justice approach to discipline and our ASESN Pledge both set a high bar for student behavior.

As you can imagine, my office is not the place you want to be to explore an episode of misconduct. Students wind up there as a last resort. Most leave resolved to do better in class, listen more attentively to their teachers, and work more productively with their peers. Repeat offenders are "counseled out" of school or not invited to reenroll.

We're very, very serious about education though, like angels, we try to take ourselves lightly. That education includes character formation, developing a moral compass, cultivating a servant's heart and acquiring the personhood skills and emotional intelligence to maximize the gifts you've been given.

The two miscreants will soon return to their friends and classes, hopefully better for the experience of being in "Fr. Smokey's Office." They are much more aware of our expectations for them and their behavior. And after some reconciling conversation as we walked down the hall, they are now better versed in our love for them. Remembering that we are Easter people helps keep all of this in perspective.

Admissions

New enrollment is officially on, having started March 1. Admissions is now first come, first serve. As of this writing (3/20), we have 120 students enrolled compared to 106 last year at about a week later in the season.

This year we opened with 139 students. Today we have 155 students enrolled. The acquisition of Temporary Learning Cottages (TLC's) to provide additional space for our continuing growth has been put on hold. All of this is to say that if you or someone you know are interested in an All Saints' education, you would be well advised to get your paperwork started or interest known sooner than later. I can't guarantee a seat will be open later as opposed to now.

Easter Weekend (April 7-10)

A friendly reminder: School will be out for a long Easter weekend, April 7-10, Good Friday through Easter Monday. I wish it didn't come so soon after Spring break (last week of March), but I'm not in charge of Easter, just a beneficiary.

Easter Egg Hunt (April 11)

Designed by the PTSO for all ages, the Easter Bunny is looking for any leftover plastic eggs, candy, small toys, crafts, etc. Donations may be dropped off between 7:30 and 4:00 before April 11 in the Office. The hunt will take place during student's regular recess times. If it rains, activities will be moved to the DCAC. PTSO will provide a goodie bag for every student and the Easter Bunny has scheduled a visit.

That's enough news for the moment. As always, should you have any questions, please be in touch (423.586.3280; headofschool@asestn.org). It's been an exceedingly good year to date.

Finishing strong in light of Dr. Sorrell's arrival this summer will be especially nice.

Blessings,

Smokey +

PS: I have a bunch of wrongfully ordered, free #2 cone coffee filters in my office looking for a new owner. I'm not very good with Amazon.

During Holy Week we are participating with a noon service with First Presbyterian Church and First Methodist Church. We will be hosting on that Wednesday, April 5th and will provide soup and salad.

(Fr. Mark will be able to give us an estimate of number in attendance after Apr. 4th) We would like to have 3 soups and some salad to offer. Let Brooke White know if you plan to make food for this event.

Also: We will be having the Annual Easter Luncheon after the 10:30 Easter Service on April 9th. The church will provide paper goods and the meat and we ask the parishioners to bring a side dish to share.

Thanks so much!!!

FOOD ON FOOT

We will fill food bags for Food on Foot sometime in April. Since we are on an every-other-month handout schedule, we will not hand out food bags at the warehouse again until the first Saturday in May, the 6th.

I will get an announcement in the bulletin the Sunday before our hand out date.

We had a large group helping hand out bags in March, and I thought it turned out to be a fun morning.

Again, thank you for supporting Food on Foot!

From the Diocese of East Tennessee

The Tucker Memorial Scholarship Fund was established by the ECW of the Episcopal Church in East Tennessee according to the ECW 2004 yearbook, "in thanksgiving for Mollie Tucker's life and witness and for her many years of service to the Episcopal Church Women in Tennessee." The financial award is intended to help recipients reach educational goals at accredited colleges or technical schools. Since 1988, more than 25 women in the diocese have been awarded a Mollie Hazen Tucker Scholarship. It is a one-time grant, currently $2,000, for one year only.

The Scholarship is to honor Mollie Hazen Tucker for her faithful service to the Episcopal Church Women for many years: the example she presented to all who know her, her strong leadership in Education, Worship, Mission, and in the Church at Large. The Episcopal Church Women of East Tennessee give Thanks to God for her life and witness.

The recipient of this scholarship shall be selected by a committee appointed by the president of the Episcopal Church Women of East Tennessee.

This is a one-time grant for one year only, to be awarded each year to a female student.

The deadline to apply for grants is May 1 of each year, (applications must be postmarked no later than the deadline). Winners are announced around June 1, Tucker's birthday.

If you would like to support this program of the Episcopal Church Women by making a contribution to the fund, please contact Mary Embler, Diocesan Administrator, at membler@dioet.org or 865-966-2110.

My Community is My Monastery

Tuesdays, April 11-May 30, 7:00 pm, Zoom

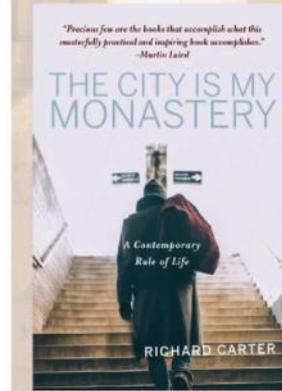

What is the future of the church?

How can we create a sustainable future?

How might a contemplative life support the future of the church?

Where do we begin such work?

These are all questions that face the 21st-century Christian.

The contemplative life is open to all, lay and ordained, can be followed anywhere and everywhere, and will play a vital role in the sustainability of the church's future. Join Bishop Brian Cole on an eight-week journey during the Easter season as we read The City is My Monastery by Richard Carter. We will reflect and explore how to live out the contemplative life within our East Tennessee communities, hoping to nurture new and renew current contemplative groups in parishes and beyond. The book is available at Union Ave. Books or from your preferred book and e-book retailers.

Training for ushers, readers, acolytes, and media support people.

Thank you, everyone of you, for your commitment to increase our ability to serve our parish members.

We will hold training classes between services on April 16th and 23rd and will be reaching out to you with more information.

If you were not able to sign up at the rally and have an interest in serving as part of the Worship Team, please reach out to either Colleen Andrews or Father Mark.

If unable to serve as scheduled, please find your own replacement.
Thanks, Colleen Andrews

When Father Smokey interviewed me for the parish secretary job back in the dark ages of 1988, I said “the congregation of All Saints’ is one of the most eclectic groups of people in Morristown!” And that fact remains true to this day. But I mean eclectic in a very good way and generous (so very generous), kind and loving.

I thank you each for your support over these past 34 years, 5 months and 16 days. I have seen the goodness in you over and over. Your love for the Lord is strong and resilient. Your caring for humanity is exhibited in so many ways. I am proud to call you friend and family. You are forever in my heart...peace be unto you.

Be still and know,

Lynne Ann
