Laura Kelley

Executive Director

Central Florida Expressway Authority

For our final spotlight of the year, we are pleased to share more about Laura Kelley, who has more than 30 years of experience in executive transportation management, helping shape national, state, and local policy.

In 2014, she was named the Central Florida Expressway Authority's (CFX) first executive director, managing the daily operations of the agency's 125-mile expressway system and $4 billion-dollar five-year work plan.

Under her leadership, the agency has adopted a "Customer First" philosophy leading to innovative programs including:

- Opening drive-up Reload Lanes on expressways
- Piloting the Visitor Toll Pass Program in partnership with the Orlando International Airport
- Instituting toll discounts drivers millions of dollars (thank you!)

Laura also guided the installation of numerous cutting-edge safety and technology improvements on CFX expressways including the award winning wrong-way driver detection systems.

We asked Laura to share a little more about herself that you may not know. Did you know that Laura is an avid paddleboarder? Read on to get to know Laura better and the contributing factors to her success.

What do you value most from your WTS membership?

I enjoy being a part of an organization that supports women in our industry.

I believe that we have a responsibility to find ways to encourage female advancement and women in leadership.

What is the best career advice you have ever received?

My father was a great humanitarian and had a tremendous work ethic.

He always encouraged me to work hard and treat people with respect.

What is something that most people don't know about you?

I love the outdoors and nature. My favorite activities include running, walking, paddleboarding, kayaking, gardening. My vacations are active ones.

If you weren't the Executive Director of CFX, what would you be doing with your time?

I have a finance and accounting degree, so I would most likely be working in the financial world. I also loved studying art history in college, so you might also find me working in the arts.

How did you become interested in transportation?

My first job out of college was a Contract Administrator for a bridge engineering firm. My role there eventually evolved to CFO. These early experiences made me realize how transformative transportation can be to the economic health of a community.

What is your favorite mode of travel?

All modes of transportation that puts someone else in the driver/pilot seat.

How do you balance a successful career and other aspects of your life?

I don't know that I do. If you are a family member or a friend of mine, you know that I love serving my community and often put up with me talking transportation more often than not. The only other topic I talk more about is my grandson.
