Dear Business Leader:

Caring for our patients, caregivers and the communities we serve has been and will continue to be our top priority during the COVID-19 pandemic.

In the last few months, all of us have been challenged in many ways – both at work and at home. Now, we are preparing for the next phase — returning to the workplace. That, too, presents challenges with changing environments, processes and behaviors. Top of mind is maintaining the health and safety of our employees and customers.

That's why Cleveland Clinic is here to help. We recently launched COVID-19 employer website clevelandclinic.org/covid19atwork, which offers expert insight and resources for safely returning to work and resuming operations as we continue to face COVID-19. Topics include employee well-being and resiliency, keeping everyone safe and cleaning procedures for your workplace.

We also are hosting an employer webinar series with our health experts. The series kicks off at 12:00 p.m. EDT on Wednesday, May 6, to discuss Getting Back to Work Safely: What Employers Need to Know about COVID-19. The conversation will feature Steve Gordon, MD., Chairman, Department of Infectious Diseases, and Jim Merlino, MD., Chief Clinical Transformation Officer. You can register and submit questions here.

As community partners, we are invested in the health of your employees and your business. We are stronger when we work together. And together is how we will overcome these new challenges.

Sincerely,
