

Get a crash course in cultural sensitivity & awareness at the upcoming multicultural link & learn!

If you work with Latinx or ESL families in our District, make plans to join us for a Cultural Sensitivity, Awareness & Responsiveness Link & Learn session designed to help our school front office personnel and school leaders with multicultural diversity challenges. During this interactive training led by Dr. Gina Tillis of the University of Memphis' River City Partnership, participants will learn ways to foster clear communication, build trust and strengthen relationships with our non-English native students and their families via various communication platforms and tactics. This course is open to all instructional and non-instructional staff and strongly encouraged to be attended by at least one staff member at schools with high Latinx populations. Register for course #35736 in PLZ to reserve your spot for the Mar. 27 session.
