

Educators from America to Africa, Dallas to Dubai, New York to New Delhi (and beyond) are getting a lesson in the funniest ways to express their worst frustrations, and they are loving every second of Eddie B's uncensored, raw, and hysterically realistic portrayal of a teacher's hectic life, from the point of view of an actual teacher! Through a rigorous comedic set characterized by original material and accented by physical comedy, Eddie B says what teachers everywhere are thinking but couldn't quite say out loud, until now. On the heels of his wildly successful and hilarious blockbuster "Teachers Only Tour," Eddie B returns to Memphis with his "I'm Already Professionally Developed Tour" on Saturday, August 24.
