

SUPERHERO  EMPLOYEE

Springdale Elementary's Angela Burton is the epitome of determination and dedication. A 40-year SCS family member, Burton has been in the classroom at Springdale for the last 38 years. During this time, she has made the difference in the lives of countless students, and her expert teaching methods have helped students develop a love for math each year. Burton also teaches her students the importance of community service and partnerships. She initiated a service project to collect pull-tabs to support the Ronald McDonald House in providing free meals to families of children being treated at St. Jude Hospital, which has grown to include the entire school and to community partners. Burton is a highly decorated teacher who goes above the call of duty for new and veteran teachers, students and her community. SHE IS A TRUE SCS SUPERHERO.
