

SOCIAL STUDIES

KINDERGARTEN

INCLEMENT WEATHER PACKET

What Is a Bill?

A bill is a kind of money. It is money that is made of paper. It can be used to buy things.

The United States has different kinds of bills. They look alike in some ways. They are all shaped like rectangles. They used to all be light green. Now, some bills have different colors. Some have light blue or peach. They also can have different designs on them.

Bills can be worth different amounts of money. There are bills worth one dollar. There are also bills worth one hundred dollars!

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. What can we do with money?

wash our car

buy things

2. What shape are all United States bills?

rectangles

circles

3. What color were all bills in the past?

light blue

green

4. Are all bills worth the same amount of money?

yes

no

5. What do we call money that is made of paper?

Money made of paper is called a _____.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

6. What did you learn from "What is a Bill?"?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Martin's Dream

by ReadWorks

All kinds of people came together in Washington, D.C.

In the photo here, you will see many people! They look very small. They were in a city called Washington, D.C. There were old people. There were young people. There were Black people. There were white people. All kinds of people had come together.

They had come together because they wanted people to be treated fairly. A lot of people had not been treated fairly. Black people could not do some of the things that white people could do. They could not go to some of the places white people went to. This was not right.

A famous man named Martin Luther King Jr. spoke to the people that came together. He told them about a dream he had. His dream was that people would be treated the same no matter what color they were. He wanted everyone to be free. People loved what Martin said. His words are still remembered today.

Martin Luther King Jr.
speaking to the people
National Archives and Records Administration

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. In this text, what kinds of people came together in Washington, D.C.?

2. Why had people come together in Washington, D.C.?

3. What did Martin Luther King Jr. do when people came together in Washington, D.C.?

He spoke to them.

He exercised with them.

4. In this text, who had a dream that people would be treated the same no matter what color they were?

Martin Luther King Jr.

Thomas Edison

5. In this text, how did people feel about Martin's Dream?

The Liberty Bell

by ReadWorks

Have you seen the Liberty Bell? It is a symbol of America. It is a very big bell.

The bell was made in 1753. It was rung to call people together. The bell cracked soon after it was made. People fixed the bell. Then the bell cracked again! It has not been rung since.

Now the bell hangs in a museum. It is in Philadelphia. That is a city in Pennsylvania. Many people visit the museum. They want to see the Liberty Bell. They also want to see the crack!

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. The Liberty Bell is a symbol of which country?

America

France

2. Why did people ring the Liberty Bell?

to call people together

to tell the time

3. What happened to the Liberty Bell soon after it was made?

It cracked.

It was stolen.

4. Does anyone ring the Liberty Bell today?

- A. No
- B. Yes

5. What city should you visit to see the Liberty Bell in a museum?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

6. What did you learn from "The Liberty Bell"?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

7. Draw a picture of yourself looking at the Liberty Bell.

What Is a Memorial?

by Susan LaBella

There are many memorials in Washington, D.C. Memorials are built to remember and honor people. Visitors go to the United States capital to see these memorials.

The Jefferson Memorial honors President Thomas Jefferson. Inside this building is a nineteen-foot-high statue of the president.

The Lincoln Memorial honors President Abraham Lincoln. Inside it is a statue of Lincoln sitting down.

The Martin Luther King, Jr. Memorial is a large stone statue. The statue honors Martin Luther King, Jr. He worked for peace among all people.

The Vietnam Veterans Memorial has two special walls. They are black walls that show the names of many soldiers. They fought and died for the United States in the Vietnam War.

Name: _____ Date: _____

1. Why do people build memorials?

- A. People build memorials to teach children about important people.
- B. People build memorials to remember and honor people.
- C. People build memorials to show how rich they are.

2. The text describes several important American memorials. Where are many of America's memorials?

- A. San Francisco
- B. Washington, D.C.
- C. New York City

3. Martin Luther King, Jr., was a very important American who did great things. What information from the text tells us this is true?

- A. There is a memorial in Washington, D.C., to honor and remember President Abraham Lincoln.
- B. There is a memorial in Washington, D.C., to honor and remember President Thomas Jefferson.
- C. There is a memorial in Washington, D.C., to honor and remember Martin Luther King, Jr.

4. What is "What Is a Memorial?" mostly about?

- A. four special American memorials
- B. how memorials are built
- C. the Vietnam Veterans Memorial

5. What is written on the Vietnam Veterans Memorial?

On the Vietnam Veterans Memorial is written

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

6. What did you learn from "What Is a Memorial"?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

7. Class Discussion Question: What type of people are remembered and honored with a memorial? Use at least two examples from the text to support your answer.

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

8. Draw a picture of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial.