

SUPERHERO  EMPLOYEE

Journalism teacher Malorie Paine has been called a game-changer for Kingsbury High. A former journalist, Malorie has raised the bar and expectations for the school's newspaper, social media channels and yearbook. The lessons taught in her classroom are based on real world experiences, and her students are becoming more prepared to succeed in the real world because of it. Malorie, who is a Level 5 teacher, is dedicated to molding the next generation of journalists, including one student who will be attending the Princeton University Summer Journalism Program. SHE IS A TRUE SCS SUPERHERO.
