

Gardenview Elementary School lead by principal Janae' Scott-Robinson puts the hearts and minds of students first. Morning groups, student voice and choice expressions for class entry, using trauma-informed practices are ways they are implementing Social Emotional Learning into daily practice. Way to Go Bluejays!

Top Story

Training & PD

Did you know Social Emotional Learning connects to the Teacher Effectiveness Measure (TEM) and the Professionalism rubric?

In this session, teachers and administrators will understand the role that social and emotional core competencies play in creating safe, engaging and personalized learning experiences for students and adults. Participants will gain insight into how these practices look in the classroom and how they align to the Teacher Evaluation Measure (TEM)

Visit PLZ to register for SEL with TEM crosswalk. Course #18403.

Resources

4 Ways to Foster Positive Student Relationships in School

1. Two-Minute Talks
2. Create a Class Playlist
3. Mix and Mingle
4. Gab and Go

www.edutopia.org/article/4-ways-foster-positive-student-relationships

www.edutopia.org/article/4-ways-foster-positive-student-relationships

Star Strategies

To build Self-Awareness, regularly ask students to share their thoughts and opinions on topics. This can be done by journal prompts for reflective writing.