3. What do the FLVS course and modules include?

For teachers, each FLVS course starts with a Welcome Folder which contains the following:

- eTeacherGuide
- Course Information
- Lessons

Teachers should carefully read each of these components in order to gain an understanding of the content and resources contained in the course. In addition to the Welcome folder, each course also contains a Getting Started folder which provides detailed information about the lessons and activities found within the course. Each FLVS course consists of modules which contain pretests, self-paced lessons, and post-assessments for students to complete at the discretion of the teacher. The number of modules and lessons found within a course will vary across grades and content.

For students, each FLVS course starts with a Welcome Folder which contains the following:

- Course Information
- Lessons

Students will also see a Getting Started folder which provides detailed information about such topics as Things to Know, Lesson Navigation, Online Learning ABC's and Academic Integrity. Teachers should encourage students to view the information in the Getting Started folder in order to help students understand what their experience will be like as they navigate through the modules within the course.

Curriculum and Instruction Department

4. How do teachers know which FLVS lessons to use to supplement the instruction that they are providing daily to students?

The Curriculum & Instruction Department has created crosswalks to identify specific lessons within the FLVS modules that align to the specific TN Academic Standards. The FLVS crosswalks can be found in the Curriculum Maps folder in SharePoint. Click here to access the FLVS crosswalks.

Before assigning lessons to students within the FLVS course, teachers should carefully read through the Course Information and Lessons sections to familiarize themselves with the materials that students will need in order to complete the lessons within the modules. Some lessons require students to download text or have access to specific manipulatives, so it will be important that teachers are aware of these expectations. It will be important to be aware of these expectations so that students are not assigned lessons that they are not able to complete due to challenges related to accessing a printer or specific manipulatives.

5. Who can I contact if I have a question about the content of the FLVS lessons?

For questions about FLVS course content, please contact a member of the Curriculum & Instruction Department. Click here to access C & I staff contact list.
