The claims process is getting more and more complex. You need an expert on your side to level the playing field with payors. At Collect Rx, whether you are in-network or out-of-network, we work even the most complex claims through to resolution, ensuring that you get the highest reimbursement for even the most challenging cases.

At Collect Rx, we help providers work with payors to increase their reimbursements and ensure that they are getting the payments they are entitled to. We are singularly focused on maximizing every claim and leveling the playing field between payors and providers. We do that not as consultants, but rather as experts in revenue cycle integrity for both in- and out-of-network claims.

Our professionals have worked for health insurers and their pricing partners and possess a depth of knowledge with an intimate understanding of the tactics payors use to decrease reimbursements.

We take the headache away from our clients' billing offices, reducing their need for highly specialized experts in complex claims and letting them focus on doing what they do best, helping people.
