

Scott Fuller
Vice President of Advancement for Murphy-Harpst.

Scott is a visionary leader and seasoned community development professional dedicated to serving at-risk youth and advancing social justice in Georgia.

With a B.A. in Pre-Law from King University and a Master of Divinity from Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary, he combines academic depth with extensive hands-on experience.

As Vice President of Advancement at Murphy-Harpst Children's Centers, Inc., Scott has been instrumental in securing funding and building partnerships that expand vital mental health and community-based programs. With a background in nonprofit management, ministry, and public relations, he is passionate about inspiring others to engage in impactful missions. He and his wife Renee live in Rome, GA and have 5 grown daughters and 2 granddaughters.