

Mary Margaret Gay

Attorney and Founding Member

Gay Jones & Kuhn, PLLC

Mary Margaret Gay is a founding member of GJ&K and concentrates her practice on strategies to help her clients anticipate and eliminate risk. She represents clients locally, regionally, and nationally. She possesses extensive experience in creating cost-efficient, unified defense strategies to manage special issues arising in litigation. She works closely with companies to create best practices, and trains their employees, outside counsel and others involved on how to put these into play. Mary Margaret regularly assists clients in monitoring and predicting trends in litigation, including filing rates, verdicts, and jurisdictional changes. She also works in Mississippi to assist students, parents, and school districts with issues related to Title IX, bullying, implementation of independent education plans and strategies to increase communication of students, teachers, and administrators.
