

Amy Bonn

Amy K. Bonn is an attorney with The Law Office of Amy K. Bonn, LLC, where she dedicates her practice to representing the families of children with disabilities in special education matters in Nebraska. She is also a proud parent of children with developmental disabilities. She is a frequent presenter on special education legal issues before audiences of families, lawyers, and support professionals, and she has published articles on special education law and advocacy. As a consulting attorney with the Council of Parent Attorneys and Advocates (COPAA), Amy works in support of COPAA's Amicus and Litigation committee work. An Air Force spouse for almost 20 years, Amy is particularly passionate about advocating for military-connected children with disabilities. Amy serves on the Board of Directors of the Arc of Nebraska and the Legislative and Advocacy Committee of the Nebraska Council on Developmental Disabilities. She received her law degree from Creighton University and an M.A. in English from the University of Pittsburgh.
