When: Sunday, September 4, 1:00 PM – Labor Day Weekend

More: Cincinnati AFL-CIO Labor Council and the Cincinnati Reds Baseball Organization invite you to join in on a true celebration of Labor and Labor Day Weekend as working families take over the game between our very own Cincinnati Reds and the Colorado Rockies.

The Leadership of all 100-plus affiliated Local Unions are invited to join the "Celebration of Labor" pre-game activities as a local school choir under the direction of a Cincinnati Federation of Teachers member directs patriotic songs, a member of UFCW 75 sings the national anthem, and the US Secretary of Labor, Marty Walsh throws out the first pitch. Members of other locals can assist in other ways for the pre-game festivities and join in on the fun on the field.

There will be display tables made available for any Local that wishes to have a presence and provide information or any other items or handouts to your Sisters, Brothers, Local, State and Federal Elected and Labor Officials, our community partners and friends, as well as all the myriad other Cincinnati families that turn out to celebrate with us.

The game is nationally televised and already creating a national buzz in both the Labor and Sports worlds. So, we need to pack the house! We need you and all your Sisters, Brothers, families and friends to join us as Cincinnati Celebrates Labor on Labor Day Weekend!

Ask your Local Leadership how you can participate in what may well become the Greatest Celebration of Labor in Cincinnati History!
