

Requesting access to myCFMportal

Before you proceed, you will need access to our myCFM Customer Portal. This is your one-stop-shop for everything you will need regarding your CFM engines (inquiries, manuals, spare parts, etc).

Follow this step by step process:

1. Navigate to <https://mycfmportal.com> and click on “Request Access”
2. Enter your official email address
3. Select your Organization from the list if available, otherwise, search using your Company Name and select the correct one from the results
4. Fill out the User Request form and submit. You will receive further instruction to gain access via emails from our Fleet Support team

The screenshots illustrate the process of requesting access to the myCFM Portal. The top image shows the 'Request Access' button on the myCFM website. The middle image shows the 'Welcome!' page where users enter their email address. The bottom image shows the selection of an organization from a list, with 'Boeing Capital Corporation' selected.
