Practical solutions for busy educators.

The mission at Times 10 Publications is to provide practical solutions that busy educators can read today and use tomorrow. Founded by Mark Barnes, a longtime educator and author, Times 10 books deliver easy-to-use, innovative solutions to the hard problems teachers face in the classroom every day. Reflected in its name, Times 10 seeks to provide solutions with a multiplier effect—so that every educator and every learner can experience ten times the effectiveness and impact in their teaching and learning.

HACK LEARNING™ SERIES

The bestselling Hack Learning™ Series delivers practical lifelines for busy educators with each of the 27 titles tackling a different critical problem facing educators today. Every title in the series explores the challenge using a ground-breaking six-part structure:

- What is the problem?
- What is the solution?
- What can I do tomorrow?
- What is the full blueprint for implementation?
- How to overcome pushbacks?
- What does the Hack look like in action?

This innovative framework helps educators understand the problem, access short- and long-term solutions, deploy strategies to deal with full implementation and inevitable pinch points, as well as see what it looks like in the real-world classroom.

Replace traditional school discipline with a game-changing, proven system founded on restorative justice.

BEST SELLER

Twenty-one months at #1 on Amazon, and still going strong, Hacking School Discipline has sold over 150,000 copies. This new blueprint for school discipline is disrupting education like nothing teachers and school leaders have seen in decades—maybe centuries. The authors, teachers and presenters Nathan Maynard and Brad Weinstein, demonstrate how teachers can eliminate punishment and build a culture of responsible students and independent learners. This revolutionary system is written for teachers who are frustrated with carrots and sticks, detention rooms, and suspension—antiquated school discipline practices that simply do not work with the students entering our classrooms today. Educators will learn how to empower their students with restorative practices that not only change behaviors but transform students into productive citizens, accountable for their own actions.

How to unpack project based learning & inquiry.

Many educators would love to leverage project based learning (PBL) to create learner-centered opportunities for their students, so why isn't PBL the norm? Because teachers have questions.

Project Based Learning is Ross Cooper and Erin Murphy's response to the most common and complex questions educators ask about PBL and inquiry:

- How do I structure a PBL experience?
- How do I get grades?
- How do I include direct instruction?
- What happens when kids don't work well together?

Teachers and educators will learn how to teach with PBL and inquiry in any subject or grade.

Every book in the Lead Forward Series explores an education challenge through the lens of leadership. Each begins by defining the problem and then moves quickly to solution strategies and how to step forward into implementation. The final component is a journal experience to help educators and education leaders be more reflective about their leadership practices.

Learn how to advocate for students with anxiety.

Clinical anxiety is on the rise, and educators are seeing more students struggling with the pressures of school and society. From her experience as a teacher and administrator and someone with anxiety, the author shows educators how to recognize when anxiety causes students to avoid assignments and skip class; build relationships by asking questions first; help students understand the body-mind connection and become self-advocates; and create safe environments with authenticity, vulnerability, and routines.
