The City has a proposed budget of 20% leaner with a proposed millage of 7.5%. The budget will be finalized at a session on September 23 after this article is published. It incorporates the continued infrastructure construction and maintenance using grants and other steams of funding to deal with flooding and upgrading the community.

The prehistoric park on the Reed Canal property is almost complete. Some of the prehistoric animal models will be here shortly. The park theme is in tribute to the sloth skeleton found in the pond area years ago. That skeleton now resides at the Smithsonian Museum.
