

4th Grade Newsletter

August 10-14, 2020

Dear 4th Grade Families,

Much like Dorothy in the first book we are reading this quarter, we are adventuring in unknown territory. There are exciting and humorous elements, and of course worrisome and even perilous aspects of this time. So just like the Scarecrow, the Tin Woodman, the Cowardly Lion journey with Dorothy and Toto, please understand that our team is doing our best to navigate this with you.

Academics:

Mathematics: Place value up to the millions place

Grammar: The four types of sentences: declarative, interrogative, imperative, and exclamatory

Composition: Reading, outlining, and summarizing "The Emperor's New Clothes" by Hans Christian Anderson

Literature: We are starting The Wonderful Wizard of Oz this week!

Poetry: None this week

History: Review of Diocletian splitting the Roman Empire in 284 AD

Science: The Scientific Method
