

LIFELONG LEARNING CLASS with Rabbi Blumberg

“The Triumph of Life: A Narrative Theology of Judaism” by Rabbi Irving Greenberg on Sundays at 11:15 am November 9, December 7

This semester, we’ll explore themes in Rabbi Irving Greenberg’s exquisite new book that reflects his understanding of our connection with God in the world around us. Together we’ll read and discuss excerpts from Rabbi Greenberg’s book on topics such as chaos and order, God’s covenant with humanity, human dignity and life, and the relationship between particularism and universalism. No background knowledge necessary; purchase of the book is suggested but not required.
