Educational workshop provides valuable information for special needs families and FUN activities
for the kids.

After the speaker, Affiliated Financial Group will have carnival type games, crafts, and snacks for children. A quiet room will be available for children who may need to reduce sensory overload. This event is for informational purposes; no sales will be made this day. For planning and quantities for crafts, registration is requested.

Affiliated Financial Group works to help people understand how to plan for their financial future. They work with many different types of financial needs, but one specialization is planning for a special-needs child's future. Affiliated Financial Group will have speaker, Randy Young, Sr., RFC®, LACP, who is not only a financial professional but also a special needs father and advocate. Mr. Young will provide valuable insights into the importance of trusts in financial planning for special needs individuals. His firsthand experience will be instrumental in guiding attendees through this complex area.
