The Independence Historical Trust is hosting an in-person public meeting on Tuesday, June 24 at 6:00 PM to provide an update on the proposed improvements to the pedestrian walkway and public gathering space located between the Old City Presbyterian Apartments (25 N. 4th Street) and the Colonial Penn Life Insurance Company building (399 Market Street). Known as the Commerce Street Connector, this project will revive a valuable connection from Market Street and N. 4th Street to the Independence National Historical Park, via Commerce Street.
