NEURODIVERGENT EVALUATIONS

Teens, young adults and older adults have often lived with symptoms of ADHD and autism spectrum disorder without having a clear understanding of how their brains work. An in-depth psychiatric evaluation provides a framework for our experience that allows us to pursue those supports and skills leading to a more fulfilling life.

Click Here for More Information