THRIVE EMERGE

DREAM

Go ahead.
Cross the ledge you fear the most.
Quake with doubt.

Your heart
Leads you into danger.

You crumble in pain
In the wake of its boldness.

Your heart can change everything
In the slip of one moment
Into the next.

Your heart can change everything.

Listen carefully
To its urgent whisper:

Open your eyes
And see at last
The vision of a thousand dreams.

Slide effortlessly
Into the yawning chasm.

Become drunk with possibility.
Let go.
Risk soaring like a bird.

Your heart holds you aloft,
Light
As a feather.
