SBA’s Disaster Declaration Makes Loans Available Due to the Coronavirus (COVID-19)

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) is offering designated states and territories low-interest federal disaster loans for working capital to small businesses suffering substantial economic injury as a result of the Coronavirus (COVID-19).

The SBA has issued, under its own authority and as provided by the Coronavirus Preparedness and Response Supplement Appropriations Act, Economic Injury Disaster Loan declarations for the District of Columbia, Maryland, and Virginia.

Using Loan Payment Deferrals to Augment Cash Flow
(Slide 1 of 2)

Federal and state banking regulatory agencies have issued a joint letter to financial institutions, strongly recommending lenders work with borrowers to offer loan modifications in response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Such deferments neither impact the lender’s standing with bank regulators, nor reflect negatively on the borrower’s credit score.

Using Loan Payment Deferrals to Augment Cash Flow
(Slide 2 of 2)

Small businesses with existing loans may be able to reduce their monthly outlay of cash by getting their loan payment(s) deferred.

Existing SBA loans
• 7(a), 504 or Microloans: Loan payments can be deferred up to six months. Business owners should talk with their lenders and ask for a loan modification.
• Existing Disaster Assistance Loans: SBA is automatically deferring payments on all outstanding disaster loans through December 31, 2020.

Non-SBA Business Loans
• Borrowers can discuss with their banker/lender the option to defer loan payments. The length of any deferment would be determined by the bank or lending institution.

How can I use EIDL funds?

- These are working capital loans that may be used to pay fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, and other bills that could have been paid had the disaster not occurred.

- Economic Injury Disaster Loans help entities stay afloat during the declared disaster, ready to “restart” their operations once circumstances allow.

- EIDLs are not meant for business expansion.

General Loan Approval Criteria

Credit History: Applicants must have a credit history acceptable to the SBA.

Repayment Ability: The SBA must determine that the applicant business has the ability to repay the Economic Injury Disaster Loan.

Eligibility: The applicant business must be physically located in a disaster-designated area and have suffered working capital losses due to the declared disaster.

What are the collateral requirements?

- Economic Injury Disaster Loans of over $25,000 require collateral.
- The SBA takes real estate as collateral when it is available.
- The SBA will not decline a loan for lack of collateral but requires borrowers to pledge what is available.
- Given the severity of the COVID-19 pandemic and its economic impacts, the SBA will make reasonable efforts to work with applicants toward a favorable decision.
