We're reaching out to our community with an invitation-and a hope for the future.

The South Dorchester community has a rich and meaningful history, one that has been preserved and shared thanks to the dedication of those who came before us. One of those individuals, Pat Neild, played a key role in laying the foundation for what we continue today. It's important to us that we carry forward the spirit of his work and keep our local history alive for future generations.

Our Board of Trustees is a small but active group that meets just four times a year. Meetings begin at 4:00 PM and typically last about an hour. During that time, we hear a treasurer's report, review and approve meeting minutes, and often welcome guest speakers who share fascinating insights into the history of South Dorchester and the surrounding area.

Each year, the Board also has the privilege of awarding scholarships-typically around $1,000-to deserving students. These scholarships are designated for students attending South Dorchester schools for their entire education, and reviewing and approving them is one of the most rewarding responsibilities we have.

Right now, we're looking for a few more community-minded individuals to join our Board of Trustees. You do not need to be a resident of South Dorchester-any resident of Dorchester County with an interest in local history, education, and community involvement is welcome to be considered.

Wednesday night programs about South Dorchester history and the point that we record these programs and turn them into DVD's... We have them at the Cambridge public library and the Nabb Research Center for the public to see and use and they are also for sale. So far, we've recorded about 180, with a variety of mostly South Dorchester topics in which you can check out on our South Dorchester Folk Museum website. We have been incorporated for over 25 years and would love to have more involvement of our local history lovers to share our objective in our South Dorchester history.

If you've ever thought about getting more involved, this is a meaningful way to contribute without a large time commitment. Your voice, ideas, and support can help ensure that our history and mission continue to thrive.

If you're interested or would like to learn more, please reach out- we'd love to talk with you.

Thank you for helping us keep South Dorchester's story alive.
