

Privacy Policy for Email Marketing

Domestic and Sexual Violence Services (DSVS) ("we," "our," or "us") is committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring the security of the personal information you provide to us when subscribing to our email marketing communications. This privacy policy explains how we collect, use, and safeguard your information.

1. Information We Collect

When you sign up for our email list, we may collect the following information:

- Your name
- Your email address
- Optional details, such as preferences, interests, or any additional information you choose to provide

2. How We Use Your Information

We use the information you provide to:

- Send newsletters, updates, and promotional materials relevant to your interests.
- Respond to inquiries or requests for information.
- Improve the content and effectiveness of our email campaigns.

3. Sharing Your Information

We respect your privacy and will not sell, rent, or share your personal information with third parties for their own marketing purposes. However, we may share your information with trusted service providers who assist in managing our email marketing platform or other business operations.

4. How We Protect Your Information

We implement appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect your personal data against unauthorized access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction. These measures include:

- Using secure servers and encryption.
- Limiting access to your data to authorized personnel only.

5. Your Choices and Rights

- Opt-Out: You can unsubscribe from our email communications at any time by clicking the "Unsubscribe" link at the bottom of our emails.
- Access and Update: You may request access to or update your personal information by contacting us directly.
- Deletion: You may also request that we delete your personal information, subject to any legal obligations we may have to retain it.

6. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

Our email marketing campaigns may include tracking technologies (such as pixels) to monitor email engagement, including open rates and link clicks. This data helps us tailor our content to better meet your interests.

7. Third-Party Links

Our emails may contain links to third-party websites. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or content of those sites. We encourage you to review their privacy policies before providing any personal information.

8. Policy Updates

We may update this privacy policy periodically to reflect changes in our practices or for other operational, legal, or regulatory reasons. We will notify you of significant changes by updating the policy on our website or via email.

9. Contact Us

If you have any questions or concerns about this privacy policy or our email marketing practices, please contact us at:

Domestic and Sexual Violence Services (DSVS)

1119 S Broadway

Po Box 314

Red Lodge, MT 59068

Email: info@dsvsmontana.org