"A good tree does not bear rotten fruit, nor does a rotten tree bear good fruit. A good person out of the store of goodness in his heart produces good, but an evil person out of a store of evil produces evil; for from the fullness of the heart the mouth speaks." - Lk 6:43, 45

Preparing Before Lent Begins

Taking some time to get ready for Lent will ensure that we aren't going to miss the first week or two of Lent, because we are just getting started. Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, but we want to be ready to really take off on that day, rather than just beginning to think about Lent on that day. Part of what makes a vacation or a special anniversary so special is the build-up to it.

Before we get to Ash Wednesday, we should start asking ourselves some questions and we should start with some preparations. "What does God want to give me this year?" This question may require that I slow down a bit and listen to my inner spirit. For example, even if I'm very busy, I realize I'm hungry when I hear my stomach start "growling." "What am I going to be doing on Ash Wednesday?" Too often, Ash Wednesday is like every other day, except that I manage to get to church and get ashes on my forehead. Is there anything else I can do on Ash Wednesday? How will fasting and abstaining happen for me, for my family on that special day?

It doesn't take a lot of time to prepare for the beginning of Lent. It just takes desire and focus. God can do so much with that. We can give God more of a space to touch our hearts if we begin to establish some simple patterns. We could wake up each morning, and for something like a half a minute to a minute, stand by the edge of our beds, and just ask the Lord for the grace to let this day be one in which I long for the beginning of Lent. Perhaps we need to ask for specific helps or graces to get ready to begin Lent. Whatever we try to say, our Lord can understand the Spirit trying to speak through our simple words. And all it takes is the time to find and put on our slippers. And each night, in the days ahead, we can practice giving thanks to God before I go to bed. This simple pattern, in the morning and evening can stir our spirits to look forward to and prepare for Lent, as a season of grace.

May our Lord bless us all on this journey ahead.

Begin Your Lent With Confession! "24 HOURS OF MERCY"

Friday, March 4/ Saturday, March 5

Bishop McGovern asks that Catholics in our area have the opportunity to receive the Lord's mercy early in the Lent season.

There will be 24 consecutive hours of Confessions at the Cathedral, 200 West Harrison St., beginning Friday, March 4 at 3:00 pm and continuing until Saturday, March 5 at 3:00 pm.

Eighteen priests will take turns through Friday afternoon, evening -- then all night long -- and on Saturday morning and afternoon.

The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed for the 24 hours.

The priests will welcome you at any time, and help you -- especially if it's been a while since your last Confession.

(Cathedral Knights of Columbus will provide security and assistance.)

Give thanks to the Lord for He is good. His mercy endures forever!

Ash Wednesday – 02 March 2022

Joel 2:12-18. Psalm 51:3-4, 5-6ab, 12-13, 14 & 17.
2 Corinthians 5:20-6:2. Matthew 6:1-6, 16-18.

Reflecting on Ashes. Ashes are a visible sign, an outward one of grace, reflecting inner realities. In the words of the Bible readings, they show a "return to the LORD" (Joel), they plead "not to receive the grace of God in vain" (2 Corinthians), and they instruct "when you pray, go to your inner room" and when out and about "do not look gloomy" (Matthew). This Lent (an Old English word meaning "springtime"), let us bear our ashes one day and spend the rest of these days praying and doing without fanfare.

† How will this Lent keep me humble?

Scripture Study with Bishop Braxton During Lent

Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ,

I would like to offer a scripture seminar on the writings of St. Paul at my residence (400 Oak Hill Drive, Belleville) during the six weeks of Lent. The seminar will be based on N.T. Wright's very readable book, Paul: A Biography. It is available on amazon.com for about $30. Please order the book immediately after your registration has been accepted. All participants will need to bring a copy of this book and a copy of the New Testament. I am limited to inviting only 12 participants who will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. To register, please call or email Mr. Tom Myler, my Administrative Assistant (314-707-0832, tmyler@diobelle.org). The seminar will take place from 7-9:30 PM on Wednesdays - March 2, 9, 16, 23, 30, and April 6. At this point, I have some flexibility in making some adjustments in the schedule, once we know who the participants are. We will, of course, follow all protocols that are in place at that time concerning the Coronavirus pandemic. St. Jerome teaches us that to be ignorant of Sacred Scripture is to be ignorant of Jesus Christ. I hope you can join us.

The Most Reverend Edward K. Braxton, Ph.D., S.T.D

“Connections” of transfiguration

Two Christmases ago — the first COVID Christmas — their grandson was only a year old. With contact limited because of the pandemic, they feared that they would be just another masked figure shivering in their driveway, another face on the computer screen. Would he recognize them when they could finally hug him again? But this past Christmas, their grandson, now two, recognized his grandparents and was delighted to see them.

When the little boy patted the floor for Grandma to sit next to him, her heart “ping[ed].” The grandmother, Boston Globe columnist Joan Vennoch, writes [December 23, 2021] that, while she and her family will continue to act safely and responsibly for the good of all, “I never want to return to driveway visits. I don’t want to go back in time to when I couldn’t chase after this little boy and wipe his face after a joyous encounter with ice cream or pick up his new baby brother. FaceTime has its moments, but it’s not the same as pushing him in a swing or catching him at the end of the slide.

“That craving for human contact makes us human. The fear of losing it again may be the biggest hurdle when it comes to fighting this pandemic. We need people, whatever our political beliefs and whatever phase of life we’re in. We need the friend who comes over for a glass of wine, the daughter who shows up to help with a computer problem, and the grandchildren who jubilantly disturb the empty nest. We even need our office mates, and not just for the energy of their ideas, but for the snippets about their lives outside work that are shared while waiting in the Starbucks line.”

As this pandemic grinds along, Joan Vennoch writes, “so much divides us and pulls us apart. That’s why every connection is so precious . . . I am grateful for the gift of a little boy who reaches out to grab my hand and, with his brother, touches my heart.”

The late Archbishop Desmond Tutu said that “God places us in the world as God’s fellow workers — agents of transfiguration. We work with God so that injustice is transfigured into justice, so that there will be more compassion and caring, so that there will be more laughter and joy, so that there will be more togetherness in God’s world.” The joy experienced in a two-year-old grandson’s hug is such a moment of transfiguration: when the love and care we possess “transfigures” brokenness, isolation and grief into trust, healing and acceptance. As we’ve come to appreciate all the more during these difficult two years, these simple expressions of welcome and care “transfigure” the human experience into meaning and purpose. The figure of Christ on Mount Tabor calls us to be what Desmond Tutu called “agents of transfiguration”: to take on the work of transforming the coldness, sadness and despair around us into the love, compassion and hope of God.
