

Saturday, October 4, 2025 Financial Symposium: Spotlight on our Speakers

Stanley Liu, M.D.

Dr. Stanley Liu is an independent cardiologist as well as a licensed financial planner in Baltimore, MD. A former academic cardiologist at the University of Maryland, he currently contracts part-time as an outpatient cardiologist at Sage Health and as a locum tenens inpatient cardiologist at UPMC Western MD. He also is the founder and Principal Financial Planner at DocEmpowered, LLC, a financial planning firm centered on physician wellness.

Ethan A. Nkana, JD, MBA, Principal
Rocky Mountain Physician Agency

Ethan A. Nkana, Founder of Rocky Mountain Physician Agency (RMPA), is a healthcare executive with more than a decade of national experience in hospital and healthcare administration. He began his hospital administration journey as a Human Resources intern, after earning a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration & Public Relations. He also earned his Juris Doctor (J.D.) and Master's in Business Administration (MBA) from the University of Dayton. RMPA advocates for physicians to get the value they have earned in their salary and contract by using the same industry-leading physician salary data hospitals use. RMPA serves physicians of all specialties, from residency to retirement, whether the physician is currently in a contract or planning for an upcoming contract.
