Rosilicie Ochoa Bogh Endorsed by State Senator Brian Jones

GOP Caucus Chair Joins Dozens of Major Republican Leaders Supporting Rosilicie

Yucaipa – Republican candidate for State Senate, Rosilicie Ochoa Bogh today announced that yet another major Republican leader had endorsed her campaign. This time, Senate Caucus Chair Brian Jones endorsed her campaign for State Senate district 23.

Statement from Senator Jones:

“Rosilicie is exactly the right person the Inland Empire needs in Sacramento. She will be a passionate and tireless advocate for policies that grow jobs, educate our kids, build our roads, and keep our families safe. Rosilicie is part of a new generation of conservative leaders in California and I’m proud to give her my full endorsement.”

Jones’ endorsement along with the many others shows Rosilicie’s campaign as the clear choice of Republicans and conservatives in the Inland Empire. No other candidate in the race has announced a single significant endorsement, while momentum for the Ochoa Bogh campaign continues at a fast pace.

In the past few weeks alone, Congressman Paul Cook, Leader Shannon Grove, Senator Mike Morrell, Riverside County Supervisor Jeff Hewitt, Assemblyman Jay Obernolte, and dozens of other elected officials have all endorsed Rosilicie’s campaign.

“We are leading in fundraising, endorsements, grassroots support, and hours spent on the trail,” said Rosilicie Ochoa Bogh. “I’m honored to see that hard work paying off in the form of another endorsement from a conservative leader like Senator Jones. In Sacramento, I look forward to working alongside of him and many others for conservative policies that help families in the Inland Empire regain the hope of the American dream.”
